INTRODUCTION

A distinct collection, guided by our exacting Principles.

*Character. Craftsmanship.
Consistency.*

Our cigar collections have been curated with the same care and discernment we bring to our wine estate partnerships. Each has been chosen for its exceptional quality, character and integrity, reflecting a genuine passion for the art of the cigar.

OUR TEAM

Ingrid Valentina Vincent

Founder & Managing Director

Ingrid, has a background in economics and commerce, she founded Vincent & Sons, building a specialist platform around a clear standard: character, provenance and reliability. She leads the company's strategy, estate relationships and long-term direction, ensuring that every partnership meets the filter we apply and that the business remains focused on quality over scale.

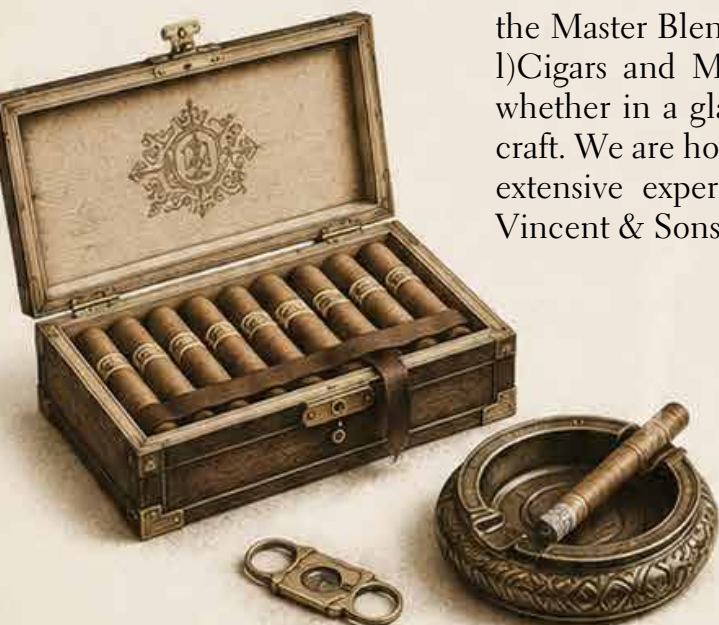

German Müller

Master Blender

German trained as an oenologist and tobacco specialist in Argentina and Italy, building the foundation for a career now.

German trained as an oenologist and tobacco specialist in Argentina and Italy, he has spent 26 years honing his craft. His expertise has taken him to Panama and Nicaragua, developing distinctive blends and pioneering new cigars in some of the world's most celebrated tobacco regions. Today he's the Master Blender behind the Traveler (should have just 1 l)Cigars and Maradona ranges — proof that great flavor, whether in a glass or a cigar, comes from the same patient craft. We are honoured (too colloquial) to have him share his extensive expertise in the areas of tobacco and wine at Vincent & Sons.

Cigar Collections

by Federico Marino

*For over 23 years, Federico Marino,
master blender and tobacco specialist, has dedicated himself fervently to the world of cigars.*

Federico's expertise in tobacco cultivation was developed through extensive international study and hands-on training, including a comprehensive course in Santo Domingo covering the entire process from planting to packaging. His journey also brought him into contact with renowned tobacco growers, including the legendary Don Alejandro Robaina, while visits to leading tobacco-growing regions further enriched his knowledge.

In 2014, Federico began an ambitious project to revive tobacco cultivation in Sicily after 150 years. Initially cultivating both Kentucky and Burley varieties, he ultimately specialised in Kentucky tobacco, which continues to be cultivated on his Sicilian plantations today, combining traditional knowledge with the island's unique terroir.
