OUR STORY

Vincent & Sons is a specialist curator of family estates and carefully selected cigar collections.

The company is named after our patriarch Vincent. His standard was simple: the best of what the land and the season could give, served with honesty. That memory still guides every decision we make. We travel to meet the people who continue to work with the same respect for place and craft, and we build long-term relationships only with those who refuse to compromise on either.

Our portfolio spans the diversity of Italy and France. In Italy it reaches from the structured reds of Piedmont and Tuscany to the volcanic soils of Etna, the coastal whites of Sardinia and Sicily, and the age-worthy indigenous varieties of Campania and Basilicata that remain largely undiscovered in this region. In France it embraces the biodynamic expression of Burgundy, the Pinot Noir-driven Champagnes of the Côte des Bar, the classified growths of the Médoc, and the limestone plateaus of Fronsac. Alongside the wines stands a focused cigar offering—Traveller and Maradona collections by Emiliano Lagos, and Nicita by Federico Marino—chosen for the same standards of character, craftsmanship and consistency.

Each partner estate and every cigar collection is selected not only for distinctive character and typicity, but for the operational ability to deliver consistent quality and reliable volume, vintage after vintage or batch after batch, without compromise. Several of our partner estates carry more than two centuries of continuous winemaking; the cigar makers we work with apply the same uncompromising craft.

We are not interested in trends or in volume for its own sake. We are interested in wines and cigars that taste and feel true—honest, expressive and trustworthy—made by producers who can stand behind every bottle and every cigar. Our role is to connect those producers with the tables, cellars, lists and private clients that value the same things.

Whether the wines or cigars are served at a private table or to the most discerning guests, we aim to be a reliable bridge built on clear standards and straightforward trust.

OUR TEAM

Ingrid Valentina Vincent

Founder & Managing Director

Ingrid, has a background in economics and commerce, she founded Vincent & Sons, building a specialist platform around a clear standard: character, provenance and reliability. She leads the company's strategy, estate relationships and long-term direction, ensuring that every partnership meets the filter we apply and that the business remains focused on quality over scale.

Lorenzo Bellucci

Commercial Director

Lorenzo brings more than a decade of experience representing premium Italian wines, grounded in nearly twenty years in hospitality and formal training with the Italian Sommelier Association (AIS). He leads commercial development across our key markets, combining deep product knowledge with a practical understanding of what restaurants, hotels and discerning private clients actually need.

OUR TEAM

Dee Barry
Financial Advisor

Dee's involvement with Vincent & Sons began with a simple conviction formed while living at a vineyard in Saint-Émilion: that wine is about heritage, craftsmanship, vision and the people behind it. With a background in commerce, finance and marketing, she supports the company's growth while remaining guided by the same belief — that exceptional wine and hospitality create lasting experiences.

Filippo Fantechi
Logistics / Advisor

Cavaliere Filippo Fantechi has more than twenty-seven years of experience across the Gulf and a deep network within the region's hospitality sector. Awarded the Order of the Star of Italy for his contribution to the Italian community abroad, he brings both commercial judgement and cultural grounding to the relationships that sit at the heart of Vincent & Sons.

Cristina Fantechi
Public Relations & Community

Cristina has lived in Bahrain for over twenty-seven years and is a long-standing figure in the Italian community of the Gulf. Through her work with the Italian Bahraini Friendship Association and her role in major cultural and charitable initiatives, she strengthens the company's presence, relationships and reputation across the region.

OUR STANDARD

Every estate we represent is selected against the same two criteria.

01 | Genuine Character and Typicity.

02 | The operational ability to deliver consistent quality and reliable volume

Nothing else qualifies

We maintain long-term relationships, not transactional listings. We present only what we believe belongs on the table.

Vineyard

Conte Guicciardini

Montespertoli

Dating back to 1199, the historic Guicciardini estate is set within a centuries-old fortress overlooking the Chianti Colli Fiorentini region. Its wines are crafted with a focus on quality, with Chianti aged in traditional barrels and IGT wines in barriques. Slow maturation in the castle cellars, followed by bottle aging, gives each wine its distinctive depth, elegance, and character.

Massi di Mandorlaia is a leading name in Morellino di Scansano, set in the wild and captivating hills of Maremma. Its warm, dry climate, significant day-to-night temperature variations, and refreshing sea breezes create ideal conditions for balanced grape ripening and expressive, elegant wines.

Belvedere Campoli is the newest jewel of the Count Guicciardini estates, set in one of Chianti Classico's most prestigious areas at 400 metres above sea level. Its exceptional exposure and soils provide ideal conditions for producing distinguished wines. The estate currently spans 8.5 hectares, with plans to expand to 14 hectares, complementing the heritage of the other Guicciardini estates.

Donatella Cinelli Colombini

Montalcino, Italy

Heritage and Innovation

Descended from one of Montalcino's oldest winemaking families, Donatella Cinelli Colombini oversees two distinguished Tuscan estates: Casato Prime Donne in Montalcino and Fattoria del Colle in the Orcia DOC.

Since 1998, she has combined deep-rooted tradition with innovative and sustainable winemaking. Casato Prime Donne spans 40 hectares, including 17 hectares of Sangiovese vineyards, while Fattoria del Colle extends across more than 300 hectares of vineyards, olive groves and woodland.

Together, the estates celebrate the character of Tuscany through Sangiovese, Foglia Tonda and other native varieties, complemented by organic practices, authentic Tuscan hospitality and a strong commitment to the land.

A legacy of Tuscan excellence, reimagined for the future.

Vineyard Paladin Treviso

Founded in 1962 by Valentino Paladin, Paladin Vigne e Vini is the first winery of the family-owned Casa Paladin group, located near Treviso in the Veneto region. For generations, the family has combined passion, tradition, and research to express the distinctive character of the Lison-Pramaggiore terroir.

Set along the historic Roman Postumia road, the vineyards benefit from mineral-rich clay-limestone soils, ideal for producing expressive and elegant wines. Guided by a strong commitment to sustainability, Paladin continues to honour its heritage while embracing innovation and responsible viticulture.

Vineyard

Bosco de Merlo

Veneto

Founded in 1977 in Annone Veneto by Valentino Paladin, Bosco del Merlo reflects a family vision dedicated to expressing the distinctive character of Eastern Veneto and Western Friuli. Today, generations of expertise combine sustainable viticulture, advanced winemaking and a deep respect for the land.

The estate's pursuit of excellence is complemented by collaborations with renowned oenologists and leading agricultural and oenological specialists. Its philosophy also embraces the relationship between wine, innovation and Italian art, exemplified by Vineargenti Rosso Riserva, featuring a distinctive label created by contemporary artist Fabrizio Plessi.

With a commitment to authenticity, precision and uncompromising quality, Bosco del Merlo creates wines with a strong sense of place, contemporary elegance and genuine character—worthy of discerning wine lovers and the tables of Italian and international haute cuisine.

Castello Bonomi

Franciacorta, Lombardy

Franciacorta is Casa Paladin's estate in Lombardy, home to Castello Bonomi, a neo-gothic château in Coccaglio on the southern slopes of Monte Orfano, a few kilometres from Lake Iseo.

The Bonomi family made the castle their home in 1910, and it was Marino Bonomi who, in 1985, recovered the historic vineyard and founded the winery. Since 2008 the estate has been part of Casa Paladin, alongside Paladin in Treviso and Bosco del Merlo in Friuli, continuing the Bonomi family's work under the same sustainable, organic-certified approach,

The vineyards cover around 30 hectares of limestone and gypsum soil on the terraced slopes of Monte Orfano, planted mainly to Chardonnay and Pinot Noir. Harvesting is done entirely by hand, parcel by parcel, to preserve the identity of each micro-area.

Castello Bonomi is known for its long-aged Franciacorta DOCG cuvées, including the Cru Perdu-named for a lost, rediscovered vineyard reclaimed from the surrounding woods and its Brut Rosé, among the estate's most awarded wines.

Cantina Castelveccchi

Tuscany

A landscape with the silence of the middle ages and a cellar with a thousand years of history.

A sea of woods, olive groves, vineyards, dotted with villages, churches and castles.

Located on the highest hills in the heart of Chianti Classico, Premiata Fattoria di Castelveccchi, in Radda in Chianti, tells centuries of traditions and a present of persistent wine challenges. Here we cultivate an ancient passion, through eleven precious crus, where old restored vineyards grow into the mother land of Tuscany.

Here you can find wines of great character, such as Capotondo, Lodolaio, Madonnino, Solana, awarded in Italy and the in the world. Rewarded of those blind tasting that belong to the local tradition: appreciated by those rare connoisseurs who still feel inside the glass the beat of time.

Casa Lupo

Veneto – Valpolicella

Paladin's experience extends to the Valpolicella horizon

Casa Lupo is born, a new chapter in Paladin's winemaking history, which continues to tell us about a long-standing passion for wine.

Today, Paladin has decided to renew its commitment as an ambassador for the region and Italian winemaking around the world, taking another step forward, marking a return to its regional roots. Taking on this new challenge will be one of the finest terroirs in the Venetian regions, renowned for its viticultural potential and for years producing wines that have become symbols of Italianness around the world: Valpolicella.

Here Paladin has established an intense collaboration with the winemakers of Valpolicella, combining their indigenous sensibilities with the methods and expertise of its agronomists and oenologists. Casa Lupo embodies the pride and importance of Valpolicella, offering the market three excellent wines: Ripasso della Valpolicella, Amarone della Valpolicella, and Amarone della Valpolicella Riserva.

Vineyard

Colline San Biagio

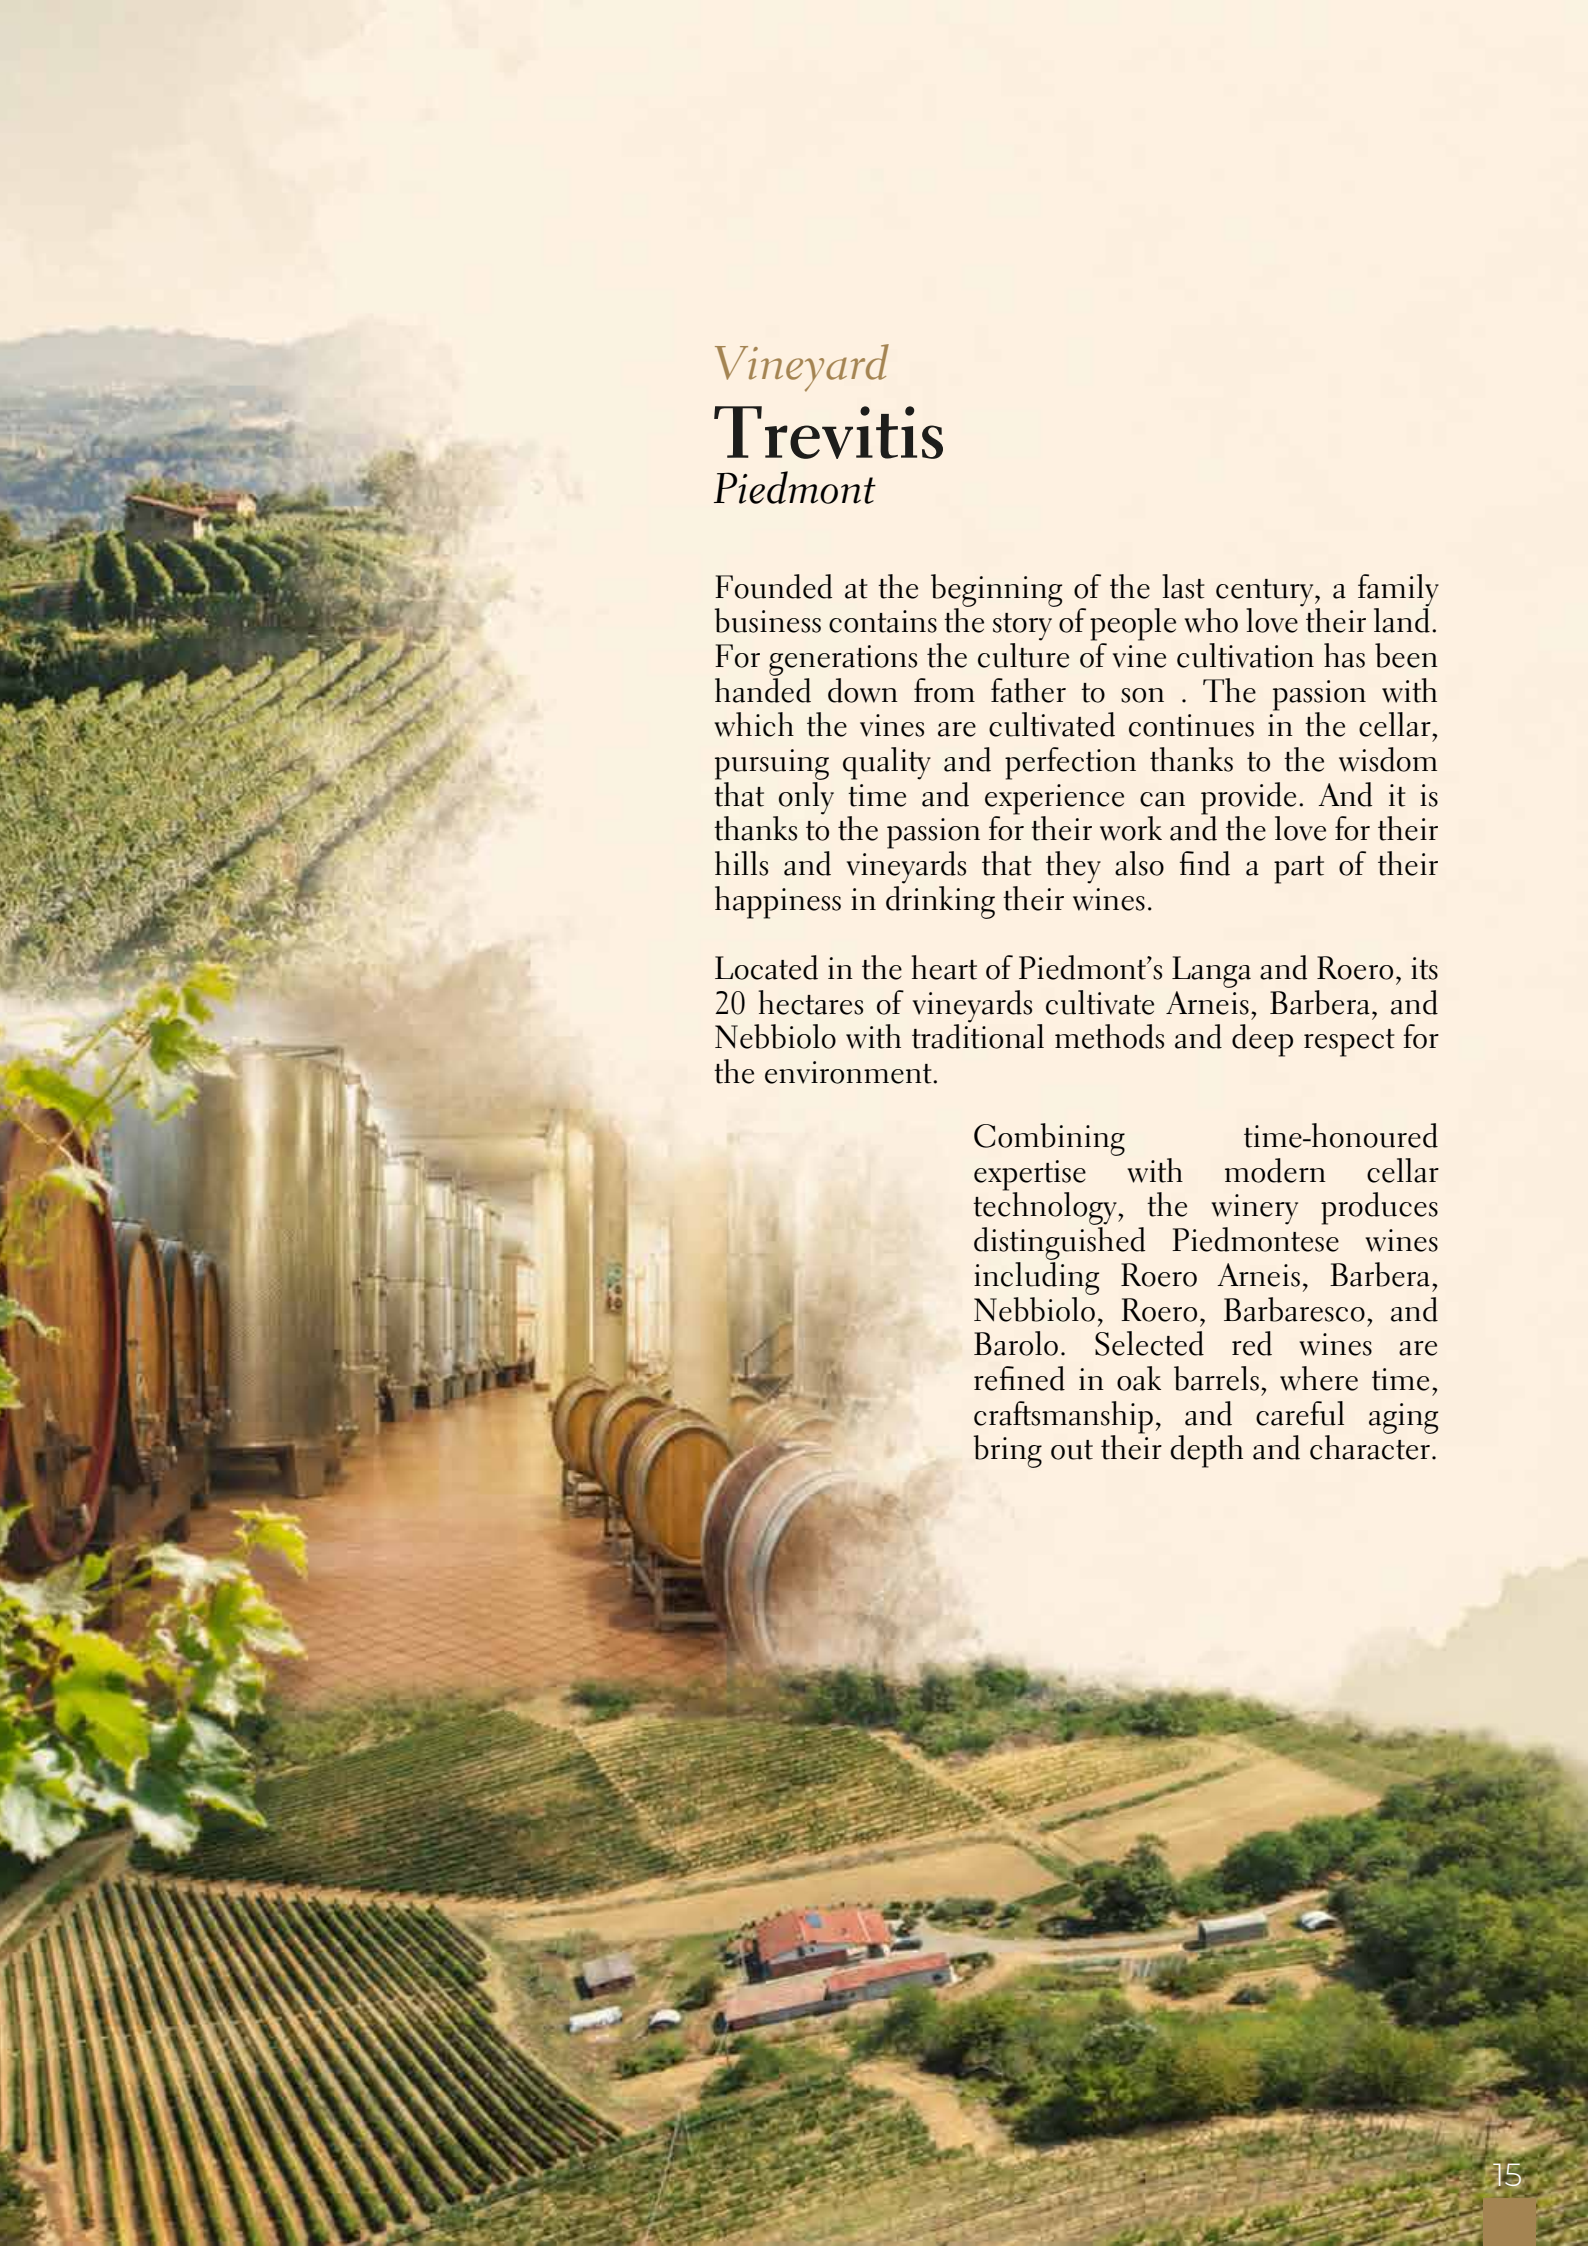

Carmignano

Colline San Biagio is a family-owned estate in Carmignano, Tuscany, with a winemaking tradition dating back to 1578. Rooted in generations of passion and respect for the land, the estate produces distinctive wines and extra virgin olive oil that reflect the character of the region.

Located on the slopes of Montalbano, the vineyards benefit from rich soils, ideal exposure, and significant day-to-night temperature variations, creating perfect conditions for slow, balanced grape ripening. Sangiovese, Cabernet Sauvignon, Cabernet Franc, Merlot, Trebbiano, and Malvasia are carefully cultivated with respect for natural cycles.

From meticulous hand harvesting to careful cellar aging, every stage is focused on preserving the authenticity and elegance of the terroir, creating wines that express the family's heritage, craftsmanship, and dedication to nature.

Vineyard Trevitis Piedmont

Founded at the beginning of the last century, a family business contains the story of people who love their land. For generations the culture of vine cultivation has been handed down from father to son. The passion with which the vines are cultivated continues in the cellar, pursuing quality and perfection thanks to the wisdom that only time and experience can provide. And it is thanks to the passion for their work and the love for their hills and vineyards that they also find a part of their happiness in drinking their wines.

Located in the heart of Piedmont's Langa and Roero, its 20 hectares of vineyards cultivate Arneis, Barbera, and Nebbiolo with traditional methods and deep respect for the environment.

Combining time-honoured expertise with modern cellar technology, the winery produces distinguished Piedmontese wines including Roero Arneis, Barbera, Nebbiolo, Roero, Barbaresco, and Barolo. Selected red wines are refined in oak barrels, where time, craftsmanship, and careful aging bring out their depth and character.

Vineyard Diadema Tuscany

Diadema Wine & EVO is a family-owned boutique winery nestled in the hills of Impruneta, in the prestigious Chianti Fiorentino region, just minutes from Florence. With roots dating back to 1787, the Giannotti family continues a tradition of cultivating vines and olive trees, combining Tuscan heritage with innovation.

Since 2004, Diadema has focused on crafting premium SuperTuscan wines, blending Sangiovese with international varieties such as Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, and Syrah. The estate also produces exceptional extra virgin olive oil from its private mill, using traditional stone milling and gentle cold extraction.

From terracotta amphora-aged wines inspired by Etruscan techniques to distinctive Swarovski® crystal-adorned bottles, Diadema represents a unique fusion of tradition, elegance, creativity, and Tuscan excellence.

Cantina Tollo

Abruzzo

Pioneers of Wine - A Tradition Spanning Millennia

In the hills of Abruzzo, viticulture is inseparable from the history of the land. Evidence of winemaking in the region reaches back to pre-Roman times, while Roman writers celebrated the quality and character of its wines centuries ago.

In Tollo, in the province of Chieti, this heritage remains particularly tangible. Ancient dolia — terracotta vessels once used for storing and transporting wine — have been discovered among the surrounding vineyards, revealing a winemaking tradition deeply rooted in the territory.

Today, Cantina Tollo carries this legacy forward, combining generations of viticultural knowledge with contemporary winemaking expertise. Its vineyards express the distinctive character of Abruzzo: a landscape shaped by tradition, climate and a profound connection between wine and place.

An ancient wine culture, interpreted for a new generation.

Vineyard

Cantine Rasore

Piedmont

Founded in 1949 by Luigi Rasore in Tagliolo Monferrato, Rasore is a family-owned Italian winery built on more than seven decades of winemaking experience. Today, the second generation continues the family tradition, combining established wine culture with modern production expertise and an international outlook.

The winery and cellars in Silvano d'Orba extend across 6,000 square metres and are equipped with advanced technology for wine selection, stabilization, filtration, bottling and storage. With a capacity of 15,000 hectolitres and two modern bottling lines capable of producing up to 13,000 bottles per hour, Rasore combines scale and efficiency with rigorous quality control.

Working closely with experienced oenologists, the winery has developed a broad portfolio of wines from Piedmont and other distinguished Italian regions, serving both established retailers and international markets.

Today, Rasore wines reach five continents, carrying forward a philosophy that has defined the family since 1949: Italian tradition, consistent quality and modern winemaking expertise.

Vineyard

Nino Gandolfo

Sicily

Founded in 1960 by Pietro Gandolfo, Nino Gandolfo is rooted in a passion for authentic Sicilian winemaking. Blessed by a Mediterranean climate of abundant sunshine, sea breezes, and rich soils, the vineyards produce expressive native varieties such as Nero d'Avola and Catarratto, alongside Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot.

Today, the winery combines traditional craftsmanship with sustainable practices, including renewable energy and careful hand harvesting in the cool early hours. Its wines reflect the distinctive character, richness, and elegance of Sicily and are enjoyed by wine lovers internationally.

Tenute Valso

Alcamo

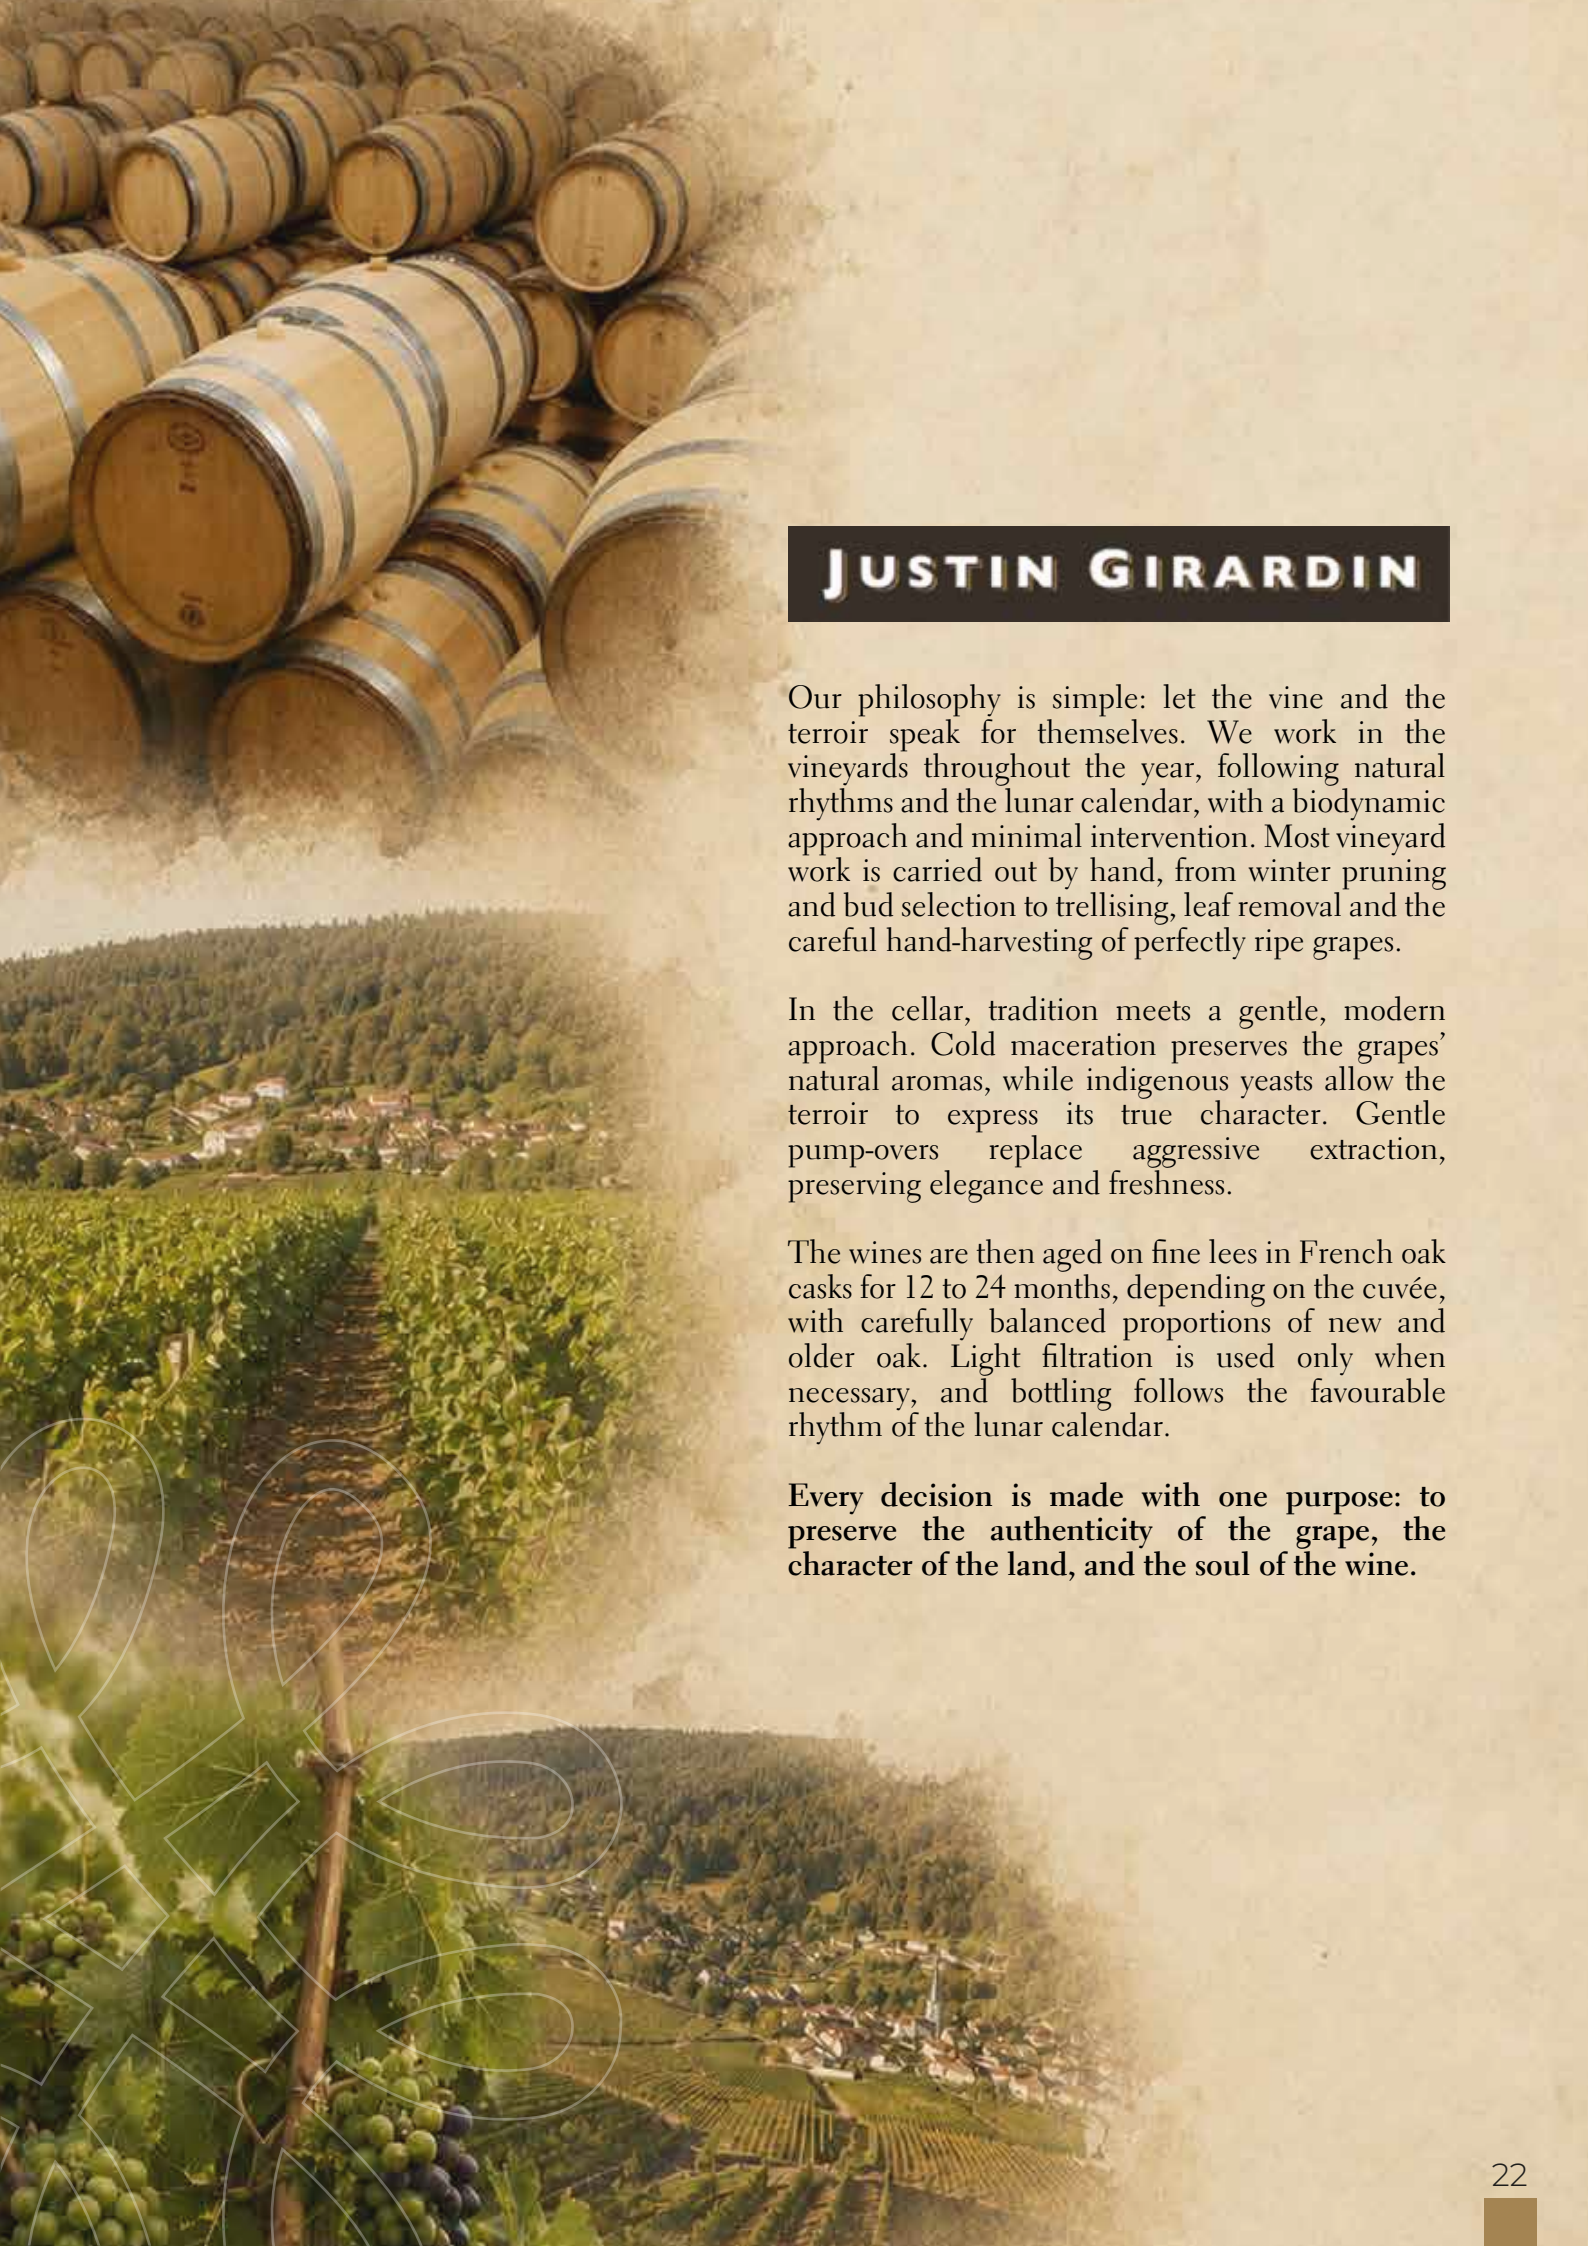

For generations, the Vallone family has been deeply rooted in the art of viticulture, passing down a profound connection to the land and its traditions.

In the 1980s, Vito Vallone and his son Stefano discovered the exceptional terroir of Valso and San Nicola in the Alcamo area. They reclaimed the rocky land and began cultivating grapes, laying the foundation for what would become the family's own wine estate.

Today, the next generation—Gabriele, Vito, and Fabio—continues this legacy through Tenute Valso, combining youthful energy, modern expertise, and respect for the land. Their vineyards embrace Sicily's native and international varieties, including Nero d'Avola, Grillo, Catarratto, Perricone, Zibibbo, Syrah, and Cabernet Sauvignon, with Catarratto at the heart of their Alcamo DOC wines.

JUSTIN GIRARDIN

Our philosophy is simple: let the vine and the terroir speak for themselves. We work in the vineyards throughout the year, following natural rhythms and the lunar calendar, with a biodynamic approach and minimal intervention. Most vineyard work is carried out by hand, from winter pruning and bud selection to trellising, leaf removal and the careful hand-harvesting of perfectly ripe grapes.

In the cellar, tradition meets a gentle, modern approach. Cold maceration preserves the grapes' natural aromas, while indigenous yeasts allow the terroir to express its true character. Gentle pump-overs replace aggressive extraction, preserving elegance and freshness.

The wines are then aged on fine lees in French oak casks for 12 to 24 months, depending on the cuvée, with carefully balanced proportions of new and older oak. Light filtration is used only when necessary, and bottling follows the favourable rhythm of the lunar calendar.

Every decision is made with one purpose: to preserve the authenticity of the grape, the character of the land, and the soul of the wine.

The Art of Exceptional Champagne

For nearly 70 years, Maison Charles Collin has been rooted in the Côte des Bar, a terroir renowned for its distinctive Pinot Noir.

Our member growers cultivate the vineyards with meticulous care, combining Pinot Noir's richness and structure with Chardonnay's freshness, finesse and minerality.

From hand-picking through vinification and extended ageing to final shipment, we oversee every stage with a commitment to quality and consistency.

The result is a collection of Champagnes that express the character of their terroir, balancing depth, elegance and freshness—an authentic reflection of the Maison Charles Collin savoir-faire.

CHATEAU LAGRANGE

Perched on two Gunzian gravel slopes, including the highest point in the appellation, Château Lagrange spans 107 hectares in a single, remarkable block. Its vineyard layout remains virtually unchanged since the 1855 Classification.

The estate is planted predominantly with Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Petit Verdot, alongside 11 hectares of Sauvignon Blanc, Sauvignon Gris and Sémillon.

Deeply committed to sustainability, Château Lagrange works in harmony with nature. No chemical herbicides are used, while grass cover, hedges, beehives, bird boxes and wildflower planting encourage biodiversity and protect the soil.

Solar panels contribute to the winery's positive energy balance, reflecting the estate's long-term commitment to responsible resource management.

CHATEAU
LA DAUPHINE

The vineyard in Harmony with Life

Château de La Dauphine is a historic 66-hectare wine estate located in the Fronsac region of Bordeaux, France, overlooking the Dordogne River. Built around 1750, the property owes its name to Maria-Josepha of Saxony—the Dauphine of France and mother of King Louis XVI—who stayed at the estate in the 18th century. Today, the vineyard is planted primarily with Merlot and Cabernet Franc, thriving on premium limestone plateaus and clay-limestone soils that define the unique terroir of the region.

The estate is highly regarded for its commitment to sustainable winemaking and has been certified organic since 2015, while also incorporating biodynamic practices. Château de La Dauphine primarily produces rich, well-structured red wines typical of Fronsac, but also outputs a small selection of dry whites, rosés, and specialized cuvées. Their modern technical facilities feature custom gravity-fed vats and concrete amphorae to preserve the fruit's purity and complexity during aging.

As a prominent destination for wine tourism, the château welcomes visitors for guided tours of its historic grounds, cellars, and scenic park. Guests can book themed tastings, workshops, and gourmet experiences directly through the estate to explore the wine-making process firsthand.

CIGAR COLLECTIONS

A distinct collection,
guided by the same
Principles.

*Character. Craftsmanship.
Consistency.*

These three collections have been chosen with the same care we apply to our estate partnerships. They stand alone — selected for quality and integrity, not as an afterthought to the wines.

The Traveller Cigars - by Emiliano Lagos

A sensory journey across cultures and regions. The collection includes Natural, Maduro, First Class, Asia, América, África, Traveller Collection and Passport - each crafted to capture a distinct character and origin.

Maradona Cigars - by Emiliano Lagos

A tribute collection in three expressions: Tribute, Classic and Limited Edition. Built around intensity, balance and recognisable style.

Nicita Cigars - by Federico Marino

Four classic formats - Robust, Toro, Figurado and Gordo - focused on structure, richness and consistent craftsmanship.

Together they form a focused cigar offering selected to the same standard of character and reliability that defines every partnership at Vincent & Sons.

The table is set. Let's talk.
